HEATCRAFT ANNOUNCES MAJOR SPONSORSHIP OF WORLDSKILLS AUSTRALIA

Heatcraft is proud to partner with WorldSkills Australia (WSA) and announce its major sponsorship of the Refrigeration category for both the 2019 round of Regional Competitions and 2020 WSA National Refrigeration Competition.

In 2019 Heatcraft celebrates 23 years of partnership with WorldSkills Australia. Paul Campbell, acting Vice President and General Manager commented,

“This is a long established affiliation that aligns firmly with our core business and values, being a heritage of excellence in refrigeration and skill development. We are proud to continue to support and celebrate our industry’s future tradespeople through WorldSkills Australia.”

As the exclusive Gold Partner of the Refrigeration Category, Heatcraft will support young tradespeople as they test their skills and knowledge in local and regional competitions for the chance to win gold, silver and bronze medals and the opportunity to potentially compete at a national and international level.

Heatcraft congratulates the current 2018 WorldSkills Australia Refrigeration and Air Conditioning National Champions Patrick Brennan, gold medalist (Tony Stephens, QLD) and Chris McNally, silver medalist (Freezetec, QLD). Patrick will now compete for selection on the Skillaroos Team to compete at the 45th WorldSkills International Competition in Kazan, Russia.

About WorldSkills Australia:

WorldSkills Australia, a not-for-profit organisation, is a united voice for skills excellence in vocational, technological and service oriented careers in Australia.

Since 1981 we have raised awareness among the nation's youth, as well as their parents, industry and employers, that our future depends on an effective skills training system. We aim to contribute to Australia's economic prosperity sustainably through the development and promotion of excellence in skills. We recognise that the vocational education and training sector is central to Australia's economic growth, productivity and future employment outcomes.

Through skill competitions, grass-roots community projects and knowledge exchange, we challenge young professionals around the nation to become the best in the skill of their choice. Our programs help shift perceptions and create the understanding that to learn a skill, to choose a skill-based career, is one of the most important decisions a young person and their family will ever make. Internationally, WorldSkills is represented by 80 Member countries, all working together with youth, educators and industries to help prepare tens of thousands of young men and women achieve their full potential, both for today and jobs of the future.
