

28th September 2026

Regular Refrigerant Pricing Movements

To our valued customers,

Refrigerant pricing is being reviewed and modified on a monthly basis and changes will be effective on the 1st of each month as we progress deeper into the HFC phasedown.

We are continuing to see increased demand of high GWP refrigerants and reducing availability of many products. A new letter detailing specific Refrigerant availability has been published to the Gas2Go website.

Kirby is well placed to support you with your transition to lower GWP refrigerant equipment and equipment running on natural refrigerants.

To further support this, we are looking for partners to proactively transition to lower GWP refrigerants. Capital investment for end users can be supported by our Refrigerant buyback program.

More can be seen here <https://www.kirbyhvacr.com.au/news/gas2go-refrigerant-buy-back-offer>

Customers can log in to the smart@ccess customer portal to see your latest pricing.

We appreciate your continued business and support. We hope this communication assists you with planning your future requirements.

Kind regards,

Brett Hedge
General Manager

